EXPERIENCE

Double Nines, Full remote from Argentine — FrontEnd Senior

June 2022 - Present

I'm working as a Frontend lead in an Angular 13 application about management of billing, customers, carriers and users for a logistics company. This project has an infrastructure of micro frontends handled with Webpack Module Federation, Kendo and NGRX as App State. I'm leading and mentoring all the Frontend team. Furthermore, I'm leading an extra package which is shared between all around the company projects. The aim of this project is to share an abstraction of many different common components for every Angular application.

Aquiva Labs, Full remote from Argentine — FrontEnd Senior

January 2022 - May 2022

I worked on a house insurance project based on Angular 8, Material and NGRX doing bug fixing and writing unit test.

Cognizant Softvision, Argentine — FrontEnd Senior

November 2020 - December 2021

I worked on projects based on Angular 9+ and Material, NGXS as application state, jasmine for unit testing. Leading code reviews and technical interviews of new candidates for the company.

I was assigned to a foreign client project where we were developing a payment application. I used to develop an application to manage internal users, customer clients and payments.

Globant, Argentine — FrontEnd Senior

August 2019 - November 2020

I had been working on several projects based on Angular 8+ and Material, doing Code Reviews for Frondend teams, creating a schema of good practice and clean coding techniques. Unit and integration tests with Jest.

Freelancer, Argentine — Fullstack

2002 - August 2019

I started as a professional fullstack developer in 2002. All my work was based on PHP (Zend and Phalcon frameworks), MySQL, Apache/Nginx over backend and HTML, CSS and Javascript with jQuery over frontend. I developed many systems and websites, some relevant projects were
